DOCTORS GETTING PAID

Doctor bills get paid more promptly now. Many physicians still left in civilian life are collecting around 90 per cent of their fees; the American Medical Association insists. Attendance at free clinics has dropped; more people than ever before are consulting private doctors.—Wall Street Journal.

SUCCESSFUL APPROACH

The young bride was entertaining a visitor to tea.
"I cooked my first dinner last night," she confided, "and it was a great success."
"Really? I'm so glad," murmured the visitor.
"Yes, my husband is going to get me a cook right away," Collier County News.

PROFITABLE SALVAGE

Providence, Rhode Island, is finding that human salvage may be financially dividends. An experiment in making "unemployables" self-supporting returned $7 for every dollar it cost, and has been placed on a permanent basis.

Each "unemployable" is given individual potentiality tests, followed by training for the type of work for which he shows aptitude. Then a job is found for him through the U. S. employment service.

Such work has social value, it can't be measured in dollars and cents. It has a war value, in helping to satisfy the national need for manpower. And for $400 spent in an experimental month, $2,720 was saved that otherwise would have been paid to persons for whom jobs were found during that month.—NEA Editorial.

PRETTY GOOD SYSTEM

Two years of experience under the 1941 tax system have failed to show up many flaws in the original plan.

The tax inquiry council in public meeting yesterday presented its legislative program for 1943, the result of many months of study of the tax laws and of dissection of the ideas of many individuals and groups with diverse points of view. No major changes in the system is proposed so it must be pretty good.

Some valuable modifications were proposed and while these are minor in the sense that they do not in any wise attack the policy of the original tax system they are none the less important and some of them are necessary to make the continuing operation of the sound new program of full assessment and low millage.—Tallahassee Democrat.

OUR GENERALS

Millions of Americans must have felt reassured about the Tunisian fighting when they read that General "Old Blood and Guts" Patton was now in command of the ground forces. Even though they know little about him, they liked the pictures of his tough, ruddy, leather face. His daily garb is a pair of heavy boots, regulation service trousers, a leather jacket, and a brace of pearl-handled guns, one swinging at each hip. The voice on the radio put it, "the two we are with Kharkov fallen, the real battle standing in a jeep."

I submit that nothing could be more deeply like us and our national character. Here we are with Kharkov fallen, the real battle of Tunisia just starting, the submarine war worse than ever—and we take place because a cussing general with two pearl-handled guns has been given a new post.

The war makes good theater for us, because we are a dramatic people. Since General Patton exists, it is unnecessary for us to invent him. I suspect that what we ask of our commanders is that they live up to the image we have formed of them—which means, I suppose, the picture we have of ourselves in their places.

Obviously this image is not a simple one. Every one of the commanders we like is the reflection of a facet of it. The closest we have to Patton in the navy is Admiral Halsey, who still lacks that the war will be over this year, but whose fame is more likely to rest on his strudy feet of steaming his naval squadron between two rows of Japanese ships, firing to right and left.

Our airforce generals are as colorful as any, partly because aviation is so young that the general of today is the ace flier of yesterday. There is Doolittle, who bombed Tokyo, but proved to be a poor administrator in Tunisia. There is Spaatz, who was a Pennsylvania typesetter and guitar player before his passion became flying. And, above all, there is Claire Chennault, the Louisiana school teacher, who thought of paratroops before the Russians, who resigned from the army because there was no room for ideas in it, and who at 47 left a wife and nine children to take his Flying Tigers to China.—New York PM.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

by Russell Kay

Hold your hats boys, here we go again!—Next week the chosen representatives of our various building ships, flying planes, growing food, tinkering ships, inventing kinds, collecting scrap, serving to the best of their ability in their allotted task.

It might be proper and fitting to have a "man-of-war" chair in both the House and the Senate as well as in every committee room, as a constant reminder to lawmakers that the people, whose interests they are bound to give first consideration, are not present.

With the need for additional revenue imperative, suggestions as to "how" and "where" from will be innumerable. All will urge the strictest economy, reduction of appropriations, elimination of the "big" and "big" but, of course, not MY board or MY appropriation.

Selfish interests—representing both industry and labor, will put on the "pressure" for this or that bill without regard to how it may affect the PEOPLE as a whole. An effort will be made to shift the tax burden. "Tax the picture show," says someone, "they got plenty of dough."—"Sure," says somebody else, "and put a 2c tax on cigarettes."—In both instances excessive taxation on two of the leading pleasures left the PEOPLE in these trying times, on items already carrying more than their share of the load. Cigarettes pay tax; such a tax would increase it to 8c a package, an excessive penalty not on this or that product, but on the PEOPLE who use or enjoy them. And today a grocer, not many people DO that.

It is natural, perhaps for the best of a board or commission to feel that its continued and expanded operation is extremely important and in view of this fact many of them will leave no stone unturned to insure a larger appropriation, together with legislation which will tend to increase power and more control over the lives and activities of the individual citizen. More fees and licenses, more supervision of business, more control over citizens and taxpayers for the benefit of a favored or pampered few.

The Farmer, the Businessman, the Housewife, the Workman, and just about everybody else is set up with bureaucratic "red tape." They have found that these so-called services and protections are for the most part costing many times what they are worth, to say nothing of the annoyance and burden they entail.

The PEOPLE appreciate today, as never before, the truth and wisdom of an old remark of an eminent statesman that "The nation that is 'BEST' governed is LEAST governed."

Small business in particular has suffered from this growing evil. It has not many of them, but many of them are the backbone of our business. Count the corpses in your own community. Is it the will of the PEOPLE that we KILL the few remaining pleasures left the PEOPLE in these trying times, on items already carrying more than their share of the load. Cigarettes pay tax; such a tax would increase it to 8c a package, an excessive penalty not on this or that product, but on the PEOPLE who use or enjoy them. And today a grocer, not many people DO that.

It is natural, perhaps for the best of a board or commission to feel that its continued and expanded operation is extremely important and in view of this fact many of them will leave no stone unturned to insure a larger appropriation, together with legislation which will tend to increase power and more control over the lives and activities of the individual citizen. More fees and licenses, more supervision of business, more control over citizens and taxpayers for the benefit of a favored or pampered few.

CINEMATIC CHATTER....

—By MALCOLM MILLAR—
What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

All the loveliness of Rita Hayworth, all the great dances of the master Fred Astaire and Jerome Kern's sweetest music have been wrapped into one beautiful package and will be delivered to the customers of the Prince music hall on the Saturday night Show and the one day stage Sunday, when these two great stars assisted by a large cast of Hollywood most dependable featured players move in with "You Were Never Lovelier."

I have been watching the showings of this picture for some time and reading reviews from cities where it has played, and in most instances, held over for extended runs, and feel I can recommend this picture to local movie goers as one of the most elegant and opulent of its kind that has been seen here in some time.

Monday—Tuesday they are screening "Pride Of The Yankees" at the Prince and every lover of clean sport, particularly the baseball fans should make it their business not to pass this one by.

Of all the assignments that have been handed to Gray Cooper, director of this picture, he has the most successful career as a film flight—screen actor it is the opinion of this writer that "Pride Of The Yankees" will be his greatest. In this picture he enacts the role of baseball's immortal diamond hero Lou Gehrig.

"Pride Of The Yankees" stars Tom Mix (as Lou), with Walter Coyner (as Lou), with Walter Coyner and a large cast of carefully selected Hollywood cinema stars, with the great "Bambino" (aimed) Babe Ruth and some of baseball's best known players.

This is an intimate story of the private life of a public hero, revealing things the crowd never knew. In this story you will see Lou Gehrig with the woman he loved, you will know the secrets they hid from each other, you will see the emotion they shared. You'll live this story because it is straight from life itself. You'll have every inch of it.

The world renowned "Bring 'em back Alive" Frank Buck, hunter of wild animals the world over, comes in Wednesday-Thursday in "Jacare", which will probably be his last wild animal picture for the duration. In case you don't know it "Jacare" is the Cayman.

The ferocious crocodile of the Amazon, a fearless, ruthless killing machine. The picture is said to be one of the most thrilling pictures. Frank has ever brought to this country and takes on a hunt into the wilds of South America.

Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce are back again, teaming with the above show, doing "Sherlock Holmes And The Secret Weapon", which is a modernization of this famous Conan Doyle fictional sluth, bang up with thrills and cleverly directed and presented.

We'll all remember Orson Welles for his "Citizen Kane", and more recently, "The Magnificent Ambersons." Now he moves in for a one-day stander, Friday, in an interesting piece titled "Journey Into Fear." Casted with Welles.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

are Joseph Cotton, Delores Del Rio and a swell cast of Broadwayites in support. This is a mystery story, well written and under the capable direction of Welles, it has been exhibited.

Richard Arlen and Arline Judge are on the same program doing a roasting story of the oil wells titled "Wildcat." This is a show that was written for action and it is said to have more thrilling adventures per foot than twenty of the worst average action pictures.

Members of the Six Shooters Club will witness the first of a series of United Artists' Western pictures, which I believe stars Richard Dix. As this company really puts money into cow eyes I am sure this should be a whale of a good show, the title has not come through as yet and I can't name it to you. On this day there will be a pre-view showing of the serial "Gang Busters," which I have seen and know to be a swell action serial.

There it is for the week, folks. I'll see you at the movies!—Mal.

AIRACOBAS TESTED ON SINCLAIR PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR OIL

When Bell Airacobras, deadly pursuit planes, are given the works on test flights their 1150 horsepower Allison engines are kept safely lubricated with Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil—the same quality Sinclair Pennsylvania sold by your nearby Sinclair Dealer.

Now that your car must last longer, keep it safely lubricated with the same quality oil that protects the Airacobra's engine at 395 m.p.h. Have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil every 1,000 miles. It lasts so long it saves money as well as your engine.

THE SECOND WAR LOAN STARTS APRIL 12

13 billion dollars must be raised

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got To Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got To Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got To Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building. . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after the war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

There Are 7 Different Types of Securities Choose the Ones Best Suited For You:

United States War Savings Bonds—Series E: The perfect investment for individual and family savings. Gives you back $4 for every $3 when the bond matures. Designed especially for the smaller investor. Dated 1st day of month in which payment is received. Interest: 2.9% a year if held to maturity. Denominations: $25, $50, $100, $500, $1000. Redemptions: any time—60 days after issue date. Price 75% of maturity value.

2½% Treasury Bonds of 1964-1969: Readily marketable, acceptable collateral, these bonds are ideal investments for trust funds, estates and . . . A special feature provides that they may be redeemed at par and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying Federal estate taxes. Dated April 15, 1964, June 15, 1969. Denominations: $500, $1000, $5000, $10,000, $100,000, $1,000,000 if registered. Redemption: Not callable till June 15, 1964; thereafter at par and accrued interest on any interest date at 4 months' notice. Subject to Federal taxes only. Price: par and accrued interest on any interest date at 4 months' notice. Subject to Federal taxes only. Price: par and accrued interest.

Other Securities: Series "S" Tax notes; 7-8% Certificates of Indebtedness; 2½% Treasury Bonds of 1950-1952; United States Savings Bonds Series "F"; United States Savings Bonds Series "G".

"U" Boats Are a Menace - Help Us Destroy Them

"One of the biggest tasks facing our Navy in this war is the building of sufficient escort vessels to protect our ships in convoy, against the torpedoes of prowling 'U' boats."

"The long distance telephone plays a vital role in the building of these sturdy ships that help keep our shipping lanes clear. From keel to top deck and from bow to stern, thousands of telephone calls assist the speedy launching of each powerful vessel—calls to suppliers and shippers in all parts of the country."

"How important it is then, that long distance telephone lines to war-busy centers be kept free of unnecessary calls."

"Those who build the tools to destroy our enemies are counting on you to help free the lanes of communication, that the seas may be freed for safe shipping."

Mr. Paul Hardin, The Everglades News, Canal Point, Florida.

Dear Paul:

Let me congratulate you on the magnificent way you co-operated with the workers on the Red Cross War Fund Campaign in Pahokee and Canal Point this year. Your section sent in total contribution of $3,620.40 which makes you go over your quota of $3,000.00 for these two localities. I think it was a marvelous job and all of the members of the Palm Beach County Chapter appreciate this outstanding record.

I want also to add the appreciation of the entire Chapter and myself personally for the wonderful way The Everglades News supported this campaign.

With kind personal regards I am

Yours most sincerely,

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mornin', Judge... mornin' someone?"

"No, Sam, I'm just going up the line away on business. Wasn't that a troop train that just pulled out?"

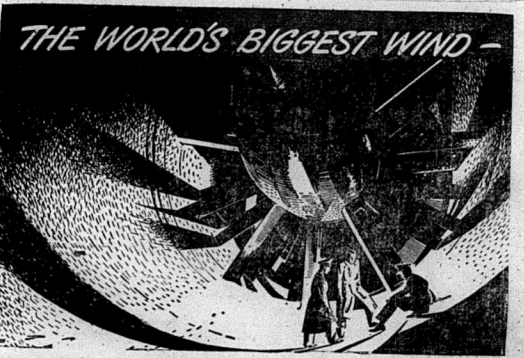

"Sure was, Judge... stopped over here for ten minutes and what a swell bunch of fellows they were."

"That's true all over, Sam. Our present Army is the best trained, best disciplined, best behaved in American history. That's why I get my hair up when I hear of some people trying to dry up the areas around

Army camps. Why, in a recent report made by the government, it said the Army usually prefers its camps to be located in wet instead of dry communities. And there's a sound reason. In a wet community the Army can control drinking. In dry communities where bootleggers run wild it's almost impossible. We know that from our nearly 14 years of experience with national prohibition.

"There's no getting away from it, prohibition does not prohibit."

TO BLAST THE WORLD'S BIGGEST WINDBAGS!

A roaring, raging hurricane seldom hits harder than 100 miles an hour. But at Wright Field, Ohio, Air Force engineers whip up an almost unbelievable 100-mile wind—to help improve America's military planes.

Two forty-foot fans, weighing nearly a million pounds, put the "hurry" in this hurricane tunnel. They're driven by a huge 125-hp electric motor with a terrific horsepower rating. They permit accurate tests of large-scale plane models at speeds up to 400 miles an hour.

American's sleek fighters and bombers are faster, safer, more deadly to the enemy, because America has the world's biggest wind tunnel—and the world's biggest supply of electric power.

In fact, electric power is basic to nearly all war production. It turns the machines that turn out tanks, planes and guns. It welds the steel seams of ships under the urgent words of war by air and by wire.

War has brought shortages of many materials, but there has been plenty of electric power for war production.

The electric companies use business management, supplying about seven-eighths of all America's electric power, but a BIG job to do—and did it!
